The natural life span of a domesticated horse is about 25-30 years,10 years down from what it was in the wild.You can tell a horse’s age from the number of teeth, he has. They get all their teeth by age of five, after which those teeth just get longer. Horse has close to 360 degree all round vision. The only place they can’t see is directly behind and right in front of them, that is why it’s dangerous to stand behind a horse. If they feel something behind them, they may kick first and ask questions later! It also means that they can’t see a jump once they are about four feet from it, and have to rely on memory as to its height and shape! Each of the horse’s two eyes works independently wherever a horse’s ear points. It is the direction where the horse is looking. A horse is able to sleep standing up as he is able to lock his leg muscles so that he doesn’t fall asleep.
