	The farmer and his lazy sons Once upon a time there lived a very hardworking farmer. He had three sons. All three were strong and healthy. But they were lazy. The farmer was very sad thinking about his sons and the future of his farmland. One day, he got a flash of an idea. He called all his sons and said that he had hidden a treasure in his farmland. The three sons were overjoyed. They went to the fields and started searching the treasure by digging their land from one end to another. They dug each and every inch of the field. But they did not find anything. They returned back and asked their father about the treasure. Their father advised them to sow seeds in the field .They did the same. Days passed.

	Soon, the crops grew lushly green. The sons were very happy. Their father said, "Sons, this is the real treasure I wanted you to share". MORAL: Fruits of hard work are always sweet. Or The Greedy Dog Once there was a dog. It was very hungry. It found a bone. It picked it up and started walking towards its home. There was a bridge on the way. It started crossing the bridge. It saw its own reflection in the water. The dog thought there was another dog with a bone in the water. It wanted that one too. It started barking at its own reflection. As it opened its mouth to bark, the bone from its mouth fell into the water. The greedy dog lost the bone. Moral: Greed leads to unhappiness.

6	Cleverness is a positive virtue. There is no harm in being clever unless it hurts someone. It should be used in the right way. Yes, according to me the artist was a worldly-wise man because he fooled the old lady with his tricks and received a big price for the portrait due to his	3	3	ENGLISH READER BOOK
